To Whom It May Concern:

My role in this research was supported by the National Science Foundation's Sociology Program, through the Doctoral Dissertation Research Improvement Grant #1802543, as well as the American Council of Learned Societies' Dissertation Completion Fellowship.

This research benefitted from research partnerships with GeoTerraImage, the Center for Affordable Housing and Finance in Africa, as well as Statistics South Africa, which each provided access to data. I also thank the Public Affairs Research Institute at the University of Witwatersrand for hosting me during multiple trips to Johannesburg, during which time I helped to obtain these data.

I do not have a position in any organization whose policy positions, goals, or financial interests relate to the article.

Sincerely,
